

The Leibniz University Hannover (Deutsches Seminar), Germany – in cooperation with Eurac Research, Italy aims to fill a position for an international and interdisciplinary third-party funded project Linguistic Racism in Multilingual Areas.

Research Fellow (m/f/d) in the field of German as a Second/Foreign Language (Remuneration Gr. 13 TV-L, 50%)

Tasks

- own scientific qualification with the aim to complete a linguistic, empirical doctorate on the topic of Linguistic Racism in Multilingual areas (see project description here)
- Preparation of scientific publications or collaboration on project publications
- Presentation of research results at academic events
- Collaboration in the organization of workshops and conferences, especially a scientific colloquium/conference at the end of the project.

The place of study and work is Hannover (GER) and Bozen/Bolzano (IT), whereby for the first year of the project the location is mainly at the Leibniz University Hannover (LUH), for the second and third year of the project the stay is mainly at the EURAC Research Bolzano.

Requirements

- Completed relevant academic university studies, preferably in German linguistics or applied linguistics with a focus on German as a foreign language/multilingualism or another comparable field of study relevant to the doctoral project.
- Willingness to cooperate interdisciplinarily with the research group Migrations&Diversities at Eurac Research, Bolzano (IT) and the research cluster Gender, Migration&Citizenship CINC at LUH (GER) and to participate in events of the research areas.

Desired in addition

- Interdisciplinary approach to the topics of linguistics and migration, e.g. through a background in political science, sociology or social anthropology
- First knowledge and experience in planning and conducting empirical research
- Knowledge of the other project languages: English, Italian
- Ability to work in a team and flexibility

We offer

- an international and interdisciplinary research environment
- a diverse and opportunity-oriented working environment
- a comprehensive range of further training opportunities

The University has set itself the goal of particularly promoting the professional equality of women and men. It strives to reduce underrepresentation in those areas in which a particular gender is underrepresented. Women are underrepresented in the remuneration group of the advertised position, qualified women are therefore invited to apply. Applications from qualified men are also encouraged. Severely disabled persons will be given preference in case of equal qualification.

For more information, please contact Prof. Dr. Anja Binanzer from the University of Hannover (anja.binanzer@germanistik.uni-hannover.de) or Dr. Marta Guarda (marta.guarda@eurac.edu) or Dr. Verena Wisthaler (verena.wisthaler@eurac.edu) at Eurac Research

Please send your application with the usual documents (curriculum vitae, transcripts, and, if applicable, a list of publications and teaching experience) as well as a sketch of an idea for a possible doctoral project (max. 3 pages) by 13.01.2023 in electronic form as a Pdf to:

Email: janina.weinberg@germanistik.uni-hannover.de or alternatively in postal form to:

Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz University of Hannover

German Seminar

ZdH. Janina Weinberg

Königswortherplatz 1

30167 Hannover

<https://www.uni-hannover.de/en/jobs/id/5778?cHash=55775e77bbe5c0ab50e9578846316cb3>

Information on Article 13 DSGVO on the collection of personal data can be found at: <https://www.uni-hannover.de/de/datenschutzhinweis-bewerbungen/>.